

Scott Klarenbach MD, MSc, FRCPC

Dr. Scott Klarenbach is the co-Scientific Director for the Kidney Health Strategic Clinical Network. He is a nephrologist and Professor in the Department of Medicine at the University of Alberta.

He received his medical training at the University of Alberta, and completed his MSc in Health Economics at the University of York, United Kingdom.

His research interests include health outcomes and health economics research has conducted numerous economic evaluations and health technology assessments for both chronic and acute conditions.

He holds the Kidney Health Research Chair, and is the Chair of the Alberta Expert Committee on Drug Evaluation and Therapeutics, Chair of the Canadian Society of Nephrology Clinical Practice Guideline Committee and, President of the Canadian Organ Replacement Registry Board and serves on the Canadian Task Force on Preventative Health Care.

Updated July 20, 2017