Professional Overview:

My major interests are in echocardiography, medical education and global health. I am the past president of the Canadian Society of Echocardiography and of the Canadian Cardiovascular Society Academy. I have a general cardiology and heart failure clinical practice. I am currently the director for echocardiography training at the Mazankowski Alberta Heart Institute and am actively involved in undergraduate medical education. I have worked at the Patan Academy of Health Sciences in Kathmandu, Nepal to develop the undergraduate cardiology curriculum and have been involved in a needs assessment for a cardiology subspecialty training program at Mekelle University in northern Ethiopia.

Current Research Interests:

- Palliative care in heart failure
